Recent March Webcast on Raising Your Windhorse –Good Fortune for the New Year

Celebrating Both Old and New!

On March 2, 2014, Tenzin Rinpoche marked the start of the Tibetan New Year, Losar, by giving a live webcast across the Internet and world, describing the traditional Tibetan practice of raising one's personal power and good fortune, or lung-ta.

The ancient practices and rituals of Losar that Rinpoche shared during the live webcast were streamed through cyberspace and viewed in at least 27 countries! There were 625–650 computers logged in to the webcast through uStream/Ligmincha, and as many as 126 computers on the Spanish translation. In many cases the numbers were actually much higher as there were often several or more people gathered together at a single computer.
